

Chris Craine – Milwaukee Electric Tool

Milwaukee Electric Tool has been a customer since the 70s. Bonafide has always been fair. If there has ever been a problem, they straighten it out. Their hearts and souls are into this business. They're there for the long haul, not just for one sale.

We're doing a big re-key which includes changing all of the locks and making the place more secure. It's a huge facility, plus we're continuing to grow. The need for locksmith capabilities will keep coming.

Bonafide can be a one-stop shop for all your security needs. They're convenient. Mike (Egan, Bonafide President) has come to my place a couple times himself. You can't beat the speed in an emergency situation.
